

GSS – Website Cookie Policy

On May 26th 2011 new rules governing the use of cookies by website came into force in Europe.

GSS's website therefore complies with these new regulations by requesting consent to use cookies when using our site.

GSS uses cookies to track usage and to help us understand how people use and navigate our site as well as improving the experience for user.

To find out more about what cookies are and why they are important you can visit www.allaboutcookies.org. This site will give you all you need to know about how to delete cookies from your computer, as well as other interesting facts on how, when and why they are used. If you are using our site on a mobile device, please refer to the handset manual for further information.

It is a condition of you using our site that you accept our cookies. If you do not wish to accept these then please log out of our site as continuing to use it will mean that you have given consent

How do I clear my cookies?

If once you have used our site you wish to clear the cookies simply go into the settings of your internet browser and navigate to the history section, and there's usually a tool to delete cookies.

This should wipe all of the cookies from your phone and computer, freeing up a small amount of file space. You can click here For further information on the law governing cookies

Review

We commit ourselves to undertaking a formal review of the Policy at least once every two years and usually yearly and to communicate changes organisation wide.
